

Ply-Krete[®] Accelerator

Ply-Krete[®] Accelerator is an activated polyol (Part A) designed to speed up the curing process of Ply-Krete[®] elastomeric concrete. The material is packaged into convenient syringes that may be dispensed with a pen or pencil into Part 'A' anytime prior to mixing Part A and Part B components together.

Add Ply-Krete[®] Accelerator to only Part A just prior to mixing in the field. The accelerated material in 50°F temperatures will reach the physicals listed in the data sheet at 75°F. This is approximate due to the many variables that may occur in the field including product mass, wind, temperature, and armor in the joint.

Do not add more than one accelerator per unit or the material may flash-cure without notice.

Ply-Krete[®] Accelerator is packaged in convenient syringes and sold in lots of 100, 250, or 1000 for best pricing. Contact Polyset for elastomeric concrete mixing and installation instructions.

For a faster cure in colder temperatures, Ply-Krete[®] Accelerator may be dispensed into Ply-Krete[®] FS, Ply-Krete[®] 2615, or other Ply-Krete[®] elastomeric concrete products. This is a convenient option for many contractors who face limited traffic downtime.

Ply-Krete[®] Accelerator is a convenient way to accelerate the traffic-ready time in cooler temperatures. Adding one syringe to Part 'A' prior to mixing does not change the material's physical properties. It will only accelerate the cure time.
